INSTRUMENT V: THE DANUBIAN TERRITORIAL ENCLAVES & SOVEREIGN BOUNDARIES CHARTER, 2026

(Enacted in the First Year of the Reign of Margrave Albrecht I)

BRIEF SUMMARY:

This constitutional and administrative instrument formally defines and protects the sovereign territorial enclaves, boundaries, and march claims of the Sovereign Margraviate of Danuvius. Operating as Part V of the core constitutional framework, this Act establishes the legal parameters of the Realm's land and riverine domains, provides for the security of its borders, and outlines the jurisdiction of the Crown over its sovereign enclaves.

Instrument V: The Danubian Territorial Enclaves & Sovereign Boundaries Charter

(5 Albr. I)

AN ACT to define, establish, and protect the sovereign territorial enclaves, boundaries, and march claims of the Margraviate of Danuvius, to secure the jurisdiction of the Crown, and for connected purposes.

BE IT ENACTED by Our Sovereign Hand, in this first year of Our Reign, with the advice and consent of the High Council of the Realm, as follows:

PART I: GENERAL PRINCIPLES AND SUPREMACY

1. Short Title and Citation
(1) This instrument may be cited as The Danubian Territorial Enclaves & Sovereign Boundaries Charter, 2026.

(2)In all formal legal records, this Act may alternatively be cited by regnal reference as 5 Albrecht I (the fifth statute enacted in the reign of Margrave Albrecht I).

2. Constitutional Supremacy
(1) This Act forms an integral part of the foundational constitutional law of the Realm, operating in harmony with preceding instruments of the Crown.

(2) The territorial integrity of the Sovereign Margraviate of Danuvius, encompassing all designated enclaves, march lands, and riverine domains, is inviolable and protected under the supreme authority of the Crown.

PART II: SOVEREIGN BOUNDARIES AND ENCLAVES

3. Definition of Sovereign Domain
(1) The sovereign territory of Danuvius consists of all lands, properties, administrative enclaves, and riverine sectors formally claimed, acquired, or recognised by the Margravial Chancery under the seal of the Crown.

(2) All enclaves held under the sovereignty of the Margraviate are recognised as distinct, autonomous jurisdictions operating under the direct legal protection and constitutional framework of the Realm.

4. Riverine Rights and the Danube Basin
(1) In accordance with the historical legacy of the Danube (Ister), the Realm asserts sovereign navigation, riparian, and cultural rights along its designated historical corridors and waters.

(2) Protection of the natural environment, waterways, and ancient borderlands forms an essential duty of the state administration and local enclave councils.

PART III: BORDER SECURITY AND JURISDICTION

5. Enclave Administration and Security
(1) Each territorial enclave shall be administered by local councils or delegates appointed or approved by the Margravial Chancery, ensuring local governance aligned with the laws of the Realm.

(2) Internal security and ceremonial border protection within the enclaves and march lands shall be maintained by civil authorities and the ceremonial honour guard, operating strictly as a civilian organisation without military or police powers in accordance with the Territorial Charter.

6. Recognition of European and Scottish Mercenary Legacy
(1) The Realm honours and incorporates into its institutional memory the historical legacy of European and Scottish martial service within the Holy Roman Empire and Danubian borderlands.

(2) This tradition of fidelity, frontier defence, and martial leadership is preserved as part of the ceremonial ethos of the Margraviate.

7. Inviolability of Boundaries
(1) Any unauthorised intrusion, jurisdictional usurpation, or infringement upon the recognised boundaries and enclaves of Danuvius constitutes an offence against the sovereignty of the Crown and shall be addressed through diplomatic, legal, and administrative measures by the High Commission.
